

PASSED BAD MONEY.

Man and Two Women Caught with Spurious Coin.

Detectives Think They Are Members of a Counterfeiting Gang.

Search Will Be Made To-Day for the Coining Plant.

Stefano Chieto, Fannie and Annette Caravel, all of 135 Fourth street, were remanded by Justice Ryan in Jefferson Market Police Court this morning to the custody of the United States authorities on a charge of passing counterfeit money.

Later they were arraigned before Commissioner Shields, who held them in $2,000 bail each, for examination Friday afternoon.

The man and his female companions were arrested last night, and, according to Detective Quinlan, who assisted in the capture, they were caught "red-handed."

For several weeks past complaints have been made to the police of the Charles street station that counterfeit coin was being circulated in the precinct.

The ward men and officers were cautioned to keep a sharp lookout, but nothing resulted until last night, when Dora Jackson, who keeps a grocery store at 347 Hudson street, called at the station-house and exhibited a counterfeit five-cent piece, which she said she had received in payment for goods from three Italian men.

Detectives Quinlan and Brennan were detailed to make an investigation. They got a description of the trio, and having previously learned something of their methods of operation, started after them.

At the corner of Hudson and Bank streets they spotted the three suspects, who just about to enter a drug store, and placed them under arrest.

On searching the pockets of the three, a number of letters addressed to him at 223 and 225 Elizabeth street and 213 Mott street, some of them mailed from Buffalo, were found.

What the contents of the letters were the detectives refused to state, but they intimated that they implicated parties in that city.

The houses at the addresses given will be searched to-day for the counterfeiters, and the police are confident that the manufacture of the money, the detectives suspect that the prisoners are members of an organized gang, which has been circulating the money in considerable quantities throughout the downtown districts the last two months.

To an "Evening World" reporter Mrs. Jackson said:

"The two women came into my store last evening, and after looking around a while, bought a lemon for two cents. I gave them the change, and they left the quarter they gave me into the till and paid no more attention to the matter."

A few moments later, in making change for another customer, I discovered that the quarter was a counterfeit. I ran out after them and found them about three blocks away. The man was with them."

"I saw the women come out of another store and immediately the man joined them. They were talking to each other too much for me, so I hurried to the Charles street police station and told my story."

"At the station their pockets were searched and enough small articles were found in them to start a general rummage. There were lemons, apples, boxes of matches, hairpins, and a whole lot of other things."

Attorney F. J. King, who represented the defendants, stated that the women informed him they had been deceived by a man in a handkerchief and gave it to the man."

LATE CARS ON MADISON AVENUE.

If Harlemites Want Them They'd Better Go to Court Friday.

The City Improvement Society has interested itself in an effort to compel the running of cars on Madison avenue above the Eighty-sixth street station after 2 o'clock in the morning, and Louis Harleman, Corporation Attorney, has instituted a suit against the New York and Harlem Railway Company, to recover the penalty of the failure of the company to comply with the city ordinance, which provides that all trunk lines shall run cars that will stop at least one minute at each station every night on Madison avenue.

The case is set for trial in the Ninth District Court, One Hundred and Twenty-first street and Sylvan place, Friday morning, and the City Improvement Society has sent out circular notices asking Harlemites to attend as witnesses.

Every other car on the line above the Forty-fourth street station, and every car on the line above the Forty-fourth street station, is to be run after 2 o'clock in the morning, the cars not taking in 25 cents a night when the experiment of all-night cars was tried.

A similar suit against the Dry Dock Line, running the green cars from the Post Office to Twenty-third street, was decided against the company some years ago by Justice Colford. The judgment was affirmed by the General Term of the Common Pleas Court, but permission was given to the corporation to carry the cars to the Court of Appeals, and then the judgment was reversed on the ground that the corporation of New York had not furnished sufficient proof of the necessity for running cars after 2 o'clock.

Therefore, if Harlemites want all-night cars on Madison avenue they will have to hustle with their evidence.

Bridge May Yet Span the Hudson.

Andrew H. Green, President of the New York & New Jersey Bridge Company, is not very much shaken at the action of President Cleveland in vetoing the bridge bill. A city official is at once prepared, which Mr. Green thinks is to be met all the President's objections.

STEAMER CECIL IN PORT.

The White Star Line's new freighter, the Cecil, has arrived in port this morning, after a trip of twelve days' duration. Capt. Nicol reports that the vessel had a continuation of severe weather.

The new freight steamer Cecil, of the White Star line, arrived in port this morning, after a trip of twelve days' duration. Capt. Nicol reports that the vessel had a continuation of severe weather.

The new freight steamer Cecil, of the White Star line, arrived in port this morning, after a trip of twelve days' duration. Capt. Nicol reports that the vessel had a continuation of severe weather.

The new freight steamer Cecil, of the White Star line, arrived in port this morning, after a trip of twelve days' duration. Capt. Nicol reports that the vessel had a continuation of severe weather.

The new freight steamer Cecil, of the White Star line, arrived in port this morning, after a trip of twelve days' duration. Capt. Nicol reports that the vessel had a continuation of severe weather.

The new freight steamer Cecil, of the White Star line, arrived in port this morning, after a trip of twelve days' duration. Capt. Nicol reports that the vessel had a continuation of severe weather.

The new freight steamer Cecil, of the White Star line, arrived in port this morning, after a trip of twelve days' duration. Capt. Nicol reports that the vessel had a continuation of severe weather.

The new freight steamer Cecil, of the White Star line, arrived in port this morning, after a trip of twelve days' duration. Capt. Nicol reports that the vessel had a continuation of severe weather.

The new freight steamer Cecil, of the White Star line, arrived in port this morning, after a trip of twelve days' duration. Capt. Nicol reports that the vessel had a continuation of severe weather.

The new freight steamer Cecil, of the White Star line, arrived in port this morning, after a trip of twelve days' duration. Capt. Nicol reports that the vessel had a continuation of severe weather.

The new freight steamer Cecil, of the White Star line, arrived in port this morning, after a trip of twelve days' duration. Capt. Nicol reports that the vessel had a continuation of severe weather.

The new freight steamer Cecil, of the White Star line, arrived in port this morning, after a trip of twelve days' duration. Capt. Nicol reports that the vessel had a continuation of severe weather.

The new freight steamer Cecil, of the White Star line, arrived in port this morning, after a trip of twelve days' duration. Capt. Nicol reports that the vessel had a continuation of severe weather.

The new freight steamer Cecil, of the White Star line, arrived in port this morning, after a trip of twelve days' duration. Capt. Nicol reports that the vessel had a continuation of severe weather.

The new freight steamer Cecil, of the White Star line, arrived in port this morning, after a trip of twelve days' duration. Capt. Nicol reports that the vessel had a continuation of severe weather.

The new freight steamer Cecil, of the White Star line, arrived in port this morning, after a trip of twelve days' duration. Capt. Nicol reports that the vessel had a continuation of severe weather.

The new freight steamer Cecil, of the White Star line, arrived in port this morning, after a trip of twelve days' duration. Capt. Nicol reports that the vessel had a continuation of severe weather.

The new freight steamer Cecil, of the White Star line, arrived in port this morning, after a trip of twelve days' duration. Capt. Nicol reports that the vessel had a continuation of severe weather.

The new freight steamer Cecil, of the White Star line, arrived in port this morning, after a trip of twelve days' duration. Capt. Nicol reports that the vessel had a continuation of severe weather.

The new freight steamer Cecil, of the White Star line, arrived in port this morning, after a trip of twelve days' duration. Capt. Nicol reports that the vessel had a continuation of severe weather.

STOLE $1,300 WORTH OF SILK.

Elbert Burgenn Admits He Robbed the H. B. Claflin Company.

Worked at Night and Sold the Goods to Dressmakers.

Elbert Burgenn, twenty-nine years old, of 178 East Seventy-seventh street, the clerk for H. B. Claflin Company, was arrested last Saturday for the larceny of goods from the firm, has confessed.

Burgenn has been married two years, and is the father of a baby, but his thieving has been done to secure money to entertain Miss Lizette Hourie, of 135 East Fifty-ninth street, and to pay for his fashionable living, which far exceeded his salary.

Detectives Grabe and Muller, of the East Sixty-seventh street station, noticed Burgenn two or three weeks ago acting suspiciously at Sixty-seventh street and Third avenue. They followed him and learned his address, and then found he was employed by the Claflin Company as a bookkeeper.

From that first meeting the detectives watched him constantly. Last Friday they saw him come out of the store, after which he went to a saloon in Chambers street, one at Fourth and Fifteenth street and another at Third and Twenty-seventh street.

He repeated the visits to the saloons, and at the Twenty-seventh street place secured another bundle, as he had done Friday afternoon.

In the mean time Detective Grabe and Muller learned his habits, and Saturday evening they arrested him after leaving his home on Sixty-seventh street.

He was taken to the station, where he was held in a cell, and his bundle was opened. It contained a number of pieces of silk, and a small box containing a revolver, which, however, was not loaded.

Last Sunday morning Burgenn was taken to the Yorkville Police Court to-day, where he was arraigned on a charge of larceny of goods from the Claflin Company.

He confessed that he had been stealing for the past six months, and that he had stolen goods worth $1,300 in that time. He also told the detectives that in a closet on the third floor of the Claflin Company store he had hidden a bundle of silk.

This they found, together with a dark green and a black, giving evidence that he had visited the place after dark.

Last Saturday Burgenn purchased two tickets for the Grand Central station, and he was taken to the station, where he was held in a cell, and his bundle was opened.

He was taken to the station, where he was held in a cell, and his bundle was opened. It contained a number of pieces of silk, and a small box containing a revolver, which, however, was not loaded.

Burgenn was held in $1,000 bail for examination.

NOT TO BE EXCOMMUNICATED

Archbishop and St. Stanislaus Church Not Opposed.

"The story published in a morning paper purporting to be an account of friction between Archbishop Corrigan and the members of the St. Stanislaus Roman Catholic congregation, and the alleged threats of the Archbishop to excommunicate the members of the congregation, is a tissue of falsehoods from end to end to the other," said Lawyer William J. Lardner, counsel for both the Archbishop and the St. Stanislaus parish, to an "Evening World" reporter to-day, when he went into the court room of the Supreme Court, Special Term.

The facts in the case are simply that the congregation of St. Stanislaus Church has been struggling along for several years building up a church and school, and the Archbishop has brought an action to eject the congregation, and is a tissue of falsehoods from end to end to the other," said Lawyer William J. Lardner, counsel for both the Archbishop and the St. Stanislaus parish, to an "Evening World" reporter to-day, when he went into the court room of the Supreme Court, Special Term.

The facts in the case are simply that the congregation of St. Stanislaus Church has been struggling along for several years building up a church and school, and the Archbishop has brought an action to eject the congregation, and is a tissue of falsehoods from end to end to the other," said Lawyer William J. Lardner, counsel for both the Archbishop and the St. Stanislaus parish, to an "Evening World" reporter to-day, when he went into the court room of the Supreme Court, Special Term.

The facts in the case are simply that the congregation of St. Stanislaus Church has been struggling along for several years building up a church and school, and the Archbishop has brought an action to eject the congregation, and is a tissue of falsehoods from end to end to the other," said Lawyer William J. Lardner, counsel for both the Archbishop and the St. Stanislaus parish, to an "Evening World" reporter to-day, when he went into the court room of the Supreme Court, Special Term.

The facts in the case are simply that the congregation of St. Stanislaus Church has been struggling along for several years building up a church and school, and the Archbishop has brought an action to eject the congregation, and is a tissue of falsehoods from end to end to the other," said Lawyer William J. Lardner, counsel for both the Archbishop and the St. Stanislaus parish, to an "Evening World" reporter to-day, when he went into the court room of the Supreme Court, Special Term.

The facts in the case are simply that the congregation of St. Stanislaus Church has been struggling along for several years building up a church and school, and the Archbishop has brought an action to eject the congregation, and is a tissue of falsehoods from end to end to the other," said Lawyer William J. Lardner, counsel for both the Archbishop and the St. Stanislaus parish, to an "Evening World" reporter to-day, when he went into the court room of the Supreme Court, Special Term.

The facts in the case are simply that the congregation of St. Stanislaus Church has been struggling along for several years building up a church and school, and the Archbishop has brought an action to eject the congregation, and is a tissue of falsehoods from end to end to the other," said Lawyer William J. Lardner, counsel for both the Archbishop and the St. Stanislaus parish, to an "Evening World" reporter to-day, when he went into the court room of the Supreme Court, Special Term.

The facts in the case are simply that the congregation of St. Stanislaus Church has been struggling along for several years building up a church and school, and the Archbishop has brought an action to eject the congregation, and is a tissue of falsehoods from end to end to the other," said Lawyer William J. Lardner, counsel for both the Archbishop and the St. Stanislaus parish, to an "Evening World" reporter to-day, when he went into the court room of the Supreme Court, Special Term.

The facts in the case are simply that the congregation of St. Stanislaus Church has been struggling along for several years building up a church and school, and the Archbishop has brought an action to eject the congregation, and is a tissue of falsehoods from end to end to the other," said Lawyer William J. Lardner, counsel for both the Archbishop and the St. Stanislaus parish, to an "Evening World" reporter to-day, when he went into the court room of the Supreme Court, Special Term.

The facts in the case are simply that the congregation of St. Stanislaus Church has been struggling along for several years building up a church and school, and the Archbishop has brought an action to eject the congregation, and is a tissue of falsehoods from end to end to the other," said Lawyer William J. Lardner, counsel for both the Archbishop and the St. Stanislaus parish, to an "Evening World" reporter to-day, when he went into the court room of the Supreme Court, Special Term.

The facts in the case are simply that the congregation of St. Stanislaus Church has been struggling along for several years building up a church and school, and the Archbishop has brought an action to eject the congregation, and is a tissue of falsehoods from end to end to the other," said Lawyer William J. Lardner, counsel for both the Archbishop and the St. Stanislaus parish, to an "Evening World" reporter to-day, when he went into the court room of the Supreme Court, Special Term.

The facts in the case are simply that the congregation of St. Stanislaus Church has been struggling along for several years building up a church and school, and the Archbishop has brought an action to eject the congregation, and is a tissue of falsehoods from end to end to the other," said Lawyer William J. Lardner, counsel for both the Archbishop and the St. Stanislaus parish, to an "Evening World" reporter to-day, when he went into the court room of the Supreme Court, Special Term.

The facts in the case are simply that the congregation of St. Stanislaus Church has been struggling along for several years building up a church and school, and the Archbishop has brought an action to eject the congregation, and is a tissue of falsehoods from end to end to the other," said Lawyer William J. Lardner, counsel for both the Archbishop and the St. Stanislaus parish, to an "Evening World" reporter to-day, when he went into the court room of the Supreme Court, Special Term.

The facts in the case are simply that the congregation of St. Stanislaus Church has been struggling along for several years building up a church and school, and the Archbishop has brought an action to eject the congregation, and is a tissue of falsehoods from end to end to the other," said Lawyer William J. Lardner, counsel for both the Archbishop and the St. Stanislaus parish, to an "Evening World" reporter to-day, when he went into the court room of the Supreme Court, Special Term.

The facts in the case are simply that the congregation of St. Stanislaus Church has been struggling along for several years building up a church and school, and the Archbishop has brought an action to eject the congregation, and is a tissue of falsehoods from end to end to the other," said Lawyer William J. Lardner, counsel for both the Archbishop and the St. Stanislaus parish, to an "Evening World" reporter to-day, when he went into the court room of the Supreme Court, Special Term.

The facts in the case are simply that the congregation of St. Stanislaus Church has been struggling along for several years building up a church and school, and the Archbishop has brought an action to eject the congregation, and is a tissue of falsehoods from end to end to the other," said Lawyer William J. Lardner, counsel for both the Archbishop and the St. Stanislaus parish, to an "Evening World" reporter to-day, when he went into the court room of the Supreme Court, Special Term.

The facts in the case are simply that the congregation of St. Stanislaus Church has been struggling along for several years building up a church and school, and the Archbishop has brought an action to eject the congregation, and is a tissue of falsehoods from end to end to the other," said Lawyer William J. Lardner, counsel for both the Archbishop and the St. Stanislaus parish, to an "Evening World" reporter to-day, when he went into the court room of the Supreme Court, Special Term.

The facts in the case are simply that the congregation of St. Stanislaus Church has been struggling along for several years building up a church and school, and the Archbishop has brought an action to eject the congregation, and is a tissue of falsehoods from end to end to the other," said Lawyer William J. Lardner, counsel for both the Archbishop and the St. Stanislaus parish, to an "Evening World" reporter to-day, when he went into the court room of the Supreme Court, Special Term.

The facts in the case are simply that the congregation of St. Stanislaus Church has been struggling along for several years building up a church and school, and the Archbishop has brought an action to eject the congregation, and is a tissue of falsehoods from end to end to the other," said Lawyer William J. Lardner, counsel for both the Archbishop and the St. Stanislaus parish, to an "Evening World" reporter to-day, when he went into the court room of the Supreme Court, Special Term.

The facts in the case are simply that the congregation of St. Stanislaus Church has been struggling along for several years building up a church and school, and the Archbishop has brought an action to eject the congregation, and is a tissue of falsehoods from end to end to the other," said Lawyer William J. Lardner, counsel for both the Archbishop and the St. Stanislaus parish, to an "Evening World" reporter to-day, when he went into the court room of the Supreme Court, Special Term.

The facts in the case are simply that the congregation of St. Stanislaus Church has been struggling along for several years building up a church and school, and the Archbishop has brought an action to eject the congregation, and is a tissue of falsehoods from end to end to the other," said Lawyer William J. Lardner, counsel for both the Archbishop and the St. Stanislaus parish, to an "Evening World" reporter to-day, when he went into the court room of the Supreme Court, Special Term.

The facts in the case are simply that the congregation of St. Stanislaus Church has been struggling along for several years building up a church and school, and the Archbishop has brought an action to eject the congregation, and is a tissue of falsehoods from end to end to the other," said Lawyer William J. Lardner, counsel for both the Archbishop and the St. Stanislaus parish, to an "Evening World" reporter to-day, when he went into the court room of the Supreme Court, Special Term.

The facts in the case are simply that the congregation of St. Stanislaus Church has been struggling along for several years building up a church and school, and the Archbishop has brought an action to eject the congregation, and is a tissue of falsehoods from end to end to the other," said Lawyer William J. Lardner, counsel for both the Archbishop and the St. Stanislaus parish, to an "Evening World" reporter to-day, when he went into the court room of the Supreme Court, Special Term.

The facts in the case are simply that the congregation of St. Stanislaus Church has been struggling along for several years building up a church and school, and the Archbishop has brought an action to eject the congregation, and is a tissue of falsehoods from end to end to the other," said Lawyer William J. Lardner, counsel for both the Archbishop and the St. Stanislaus parish, to an "Evening World" reporter to-day, when he went into the court room of the Supreme Court, Special Term.

The facts in the case are simply that the congregation of St. Stanislaus Church has been struggling along for several years building up a church and school, and the Archbishop has brought an action to eject the congregation, and is a tissue of falsehoods from end to end to the other," said Lawyer William J. Lardner, counsel for both the Archbishop and the St. Stanislaus parish, to an "Evening World" reporter to-day, when he went into the court room of the Supreme Court, Special Term.

The facts in the case are simply that the congregation of St. Stanislaus Church has been struggling along for several years building up a church and school, and the Archbishop has brought an action to eject the congregation, and is a tissue of falsehoods from end to end to the other," said Lawyer William J. Lardner, counsel for both the Archbishop and the St. Stanislaus parish, to an "Evening World" reporter to-day, when he went into the court room of the Supreme Court, Special Term.

The facts in the case are simply that the congregation of St. Stanislaus Church has been struggling along for several years building up a church and school, and the Archbishop has brought an action to eject the congregation, and is a tissue of falsehoods from end to end to the other," said Lawyer William J. Lardner, counsel for both the Archbishop and the St. Stanislaus parish, to an "Evening World" reporter to-day, when he went into the court room of the Supreme Court, Special Term.

The facts in the case are simply that the congregation of St. Stanislaus Church has been struggling along for several years building up a church and school, and the Archbishop has brought an action to eject the congregation, and is a tissue of falsehoods from end to end to the other," said Lawyer William J. Lardner, counsel for both the Archbishop and the St. Stanislaus parish, to an "Evening World" reporter to-day, when he went into the court room of the Supreme Court, Special Term.

The facts in the case are simply that the congregation of St. Stanislaus Church has been struggling along for several years building up a church and school, and the Archbishop has brought an action to eject the congregation, and is a tissue of falsehoods from end to end to the other," said Lawyer William J. Lardner, counsel for both the Archbishop and the St. Stanislaus parish, to an "Evening World" reporter to-day, when he went into the court room of the Supreme Court, Special Term.

The facts in the case are simply that the congregation of St. Stanislaus Church has been struggling along for several years building up a church and school, and the Archbishop has brought an action to eject the congregation, and is a tissue of falsehoods from end to end to the other," said Lawyer William J. Lardner, counsel for both the Archbishop and the St. Stanislaus parish, to an "Evening World" reporter to-day, when he went into the court room of the Supreme Court, Special Term.

The facts in the case are simply that the congregation of St. Stanislaus Church has been struggling along for several years building up a church and school, and the Archbishop has brought an action to eject the congregation, and is a tissue of falsehoods from end to end to the other," said Lawyer William J. Lardner, counsel for both the Archbishop and the St. Stanislaus parish, to an "Evening World" reporter to-day, when he went into the court room of the Supreme Court, Special Term.

The facts in the case are simply that the congregation of St. Stanislaus Church has been struggling along for several years building up a church and school, and the Archbishop has brought an action to eject the congregation, and is a tissue of falsehoods from end to end to the other," said Lawyer William J. Lardner, counsel for both the Archbishop and the St. Stanislaus parish, to an "Evening World" reporter to-day, when he went into the court room of the Supreme Court, Special Term.

The facts in the case are simply that the congregation of St. Stanislaus Church has been struggling along for several years building up a church and school, and the Archbishop has brought an action to eject the congregation, and is a tissue of falsehoods from end to end to the other," said Lawyer William J. Lardner, counsel for both the Archbishop and the St. Stanislaus parish, to an "Evening World" reporter to-day, when he went into the court room of the Supreme Court, Special Term.

The facts in the case are simply that the congregation of St. Stanislaus Church has been struggling along for several years building up a church and school, and the Archbishop has brought an action to eject the congregation, and is a tissue of falsehoods from end to end to the other," said Lawyer William J. Lardner, counsel for both the Archbishop and the St. Stanislaus parish, to an "Evening World" reporter to-day, when he went into the court room of the Supreme Court, Special Term.

The facts in the case are simply that the congregation of St. Stanislaus Church has been struggling along for several years building up a church and school, and the Archbishop has brought an action to eject the congregation, and is a tissue of falsehoods from end to end to the other," said Lawyer William J. Lardner, counsel for both the Archbishop and the St. Stanislaus parish, to an "Evening World" reporter to-day, when he went into the court room of the Supreme Court, Special Term.

The facts in the case are simply that the congregation of St. Stanislaus Church has been struggling along for several years building up a church and school, and the Archbishop has brought an action to eject the congregation, and is a tissue of falsehoods from end to end to the other," said Lawyer William J. Lardner, counsel for both the Archbishop and the St. Stanislaus parish, to an "Evening World" reporter to-day, when he went into the court room of the Supreme Court, Special Term.

The facts in the case are simply that the congregation of St. Stanislaus Church has been struggling along for several years building up a church and school, and the Archbishop has brought an action to eject the congregation, and is a tissue of falsehoods from end to end to the other," said Lawyer William J. Lardner, counsel for both the Archbishop and the St. Stanislaus parish, to an "Evening World" reporter to-day, when he went into the court room of the Supreme Court, Special Term.

SMALL-POX IN THE ASYLUM.

The Pest Breaks Out Among Ward's Island Lunatics.

Smith, the First Patient, Hasn't Left the Island in a Year.

Small-pox has broken out on Ward's Island among the 1,000 inmates of the New York State Insane Asylum. The health authorities had hoped to confine the disease to the Charity Hospital, on Blackwell's Island, but yesterday afternoon an inmate patient in the asylum suddenly developed the disease.

The patient is Henry Smith, forty-eight years old, who has been confined on Ward's Island for at least ten years. He is a chronic insane patient, and has not been off the island in twelve months. How he caught the small-pox is a matter that is puzzling the brains of the Health Department physicians this morning.

Dr. Macey is in charge of the Insane Asylum. Two days ago Smith became sick, but nothing strange was thought of his condition, and he continued to work with his associates in the laundry. Yesterday, however, eruptions began to appear on Smith's face and arms, and Dr. Macey, then, too late, reported to Dr. Doty, at the Bureau of Contagious Diseases, that there was a case in the asylum of a very suspicious nature.

A physician who was sent to Ward's Island soon saw that it was a case of small-pox, and Smith was isolated in a room at North Brother Island on the last boat yesterday.

Then other health officials went to the asylum and began to vaccinate the inmate inmates.

The work is still being prosecuted this morning. Each of the wards of the asylum was thoroughly fumigated, and the walls washed down with bi-chloride of mercury.

The health authorities had hoped that the thorough vaccination given the inmates three months ago, when all the public institutions were receiving a visitation of the disease, would have prevented a disastrous spreading of the infection among the poor, crazed inmates.

Two other cases were reported this morning in the city. George Marshall, forty-four, of 306 Third avenue, and Antonio Garbino, thirty-two, of 15 Oak street, were removed from their homes to North Brother Island last night.

Do You Want a Situation

AS

COOK

DRESSMAKER

WAITRESS

TYPEWRITER

HOUSEWORKER

STENOGRAPHER

SEAMSTRESS

CHAMBERMAID

LAUNDRESS

CLERK, &c.?

10 Cents

will pay for a 20-Word Advertisement in The Morning World on a Week-Day or Sunday.

DAILEY CONTRACT LEGAL

Commissioner Andrews So Advised by Counsel.

Garbage Contracts Will Now Be Regularly Advertised For.

The injunction proceedings brought by Capt. James Keyes, of 235 Avenue C, against Street-Cleaning Commissioner Andrews, restraining the latter from giving a private contract to James D. Dailey for the transportation and dumping of city garbage, which was to have been argued before Justice Barrett in the Supreme Court, Chambers, to-day, has been laid over until Jan. 31.

The disclosures which were made exclusively by "The Evening World," interest Mayor Gilroy, Comptroller Fitch, Commissioner Andrews, the Aldermen, Corporation Counsel Clark and Contractor Dailey, and may result in the ouster of the Commissioner.

Attorney George W. Deane, of the Pulitzer Building, who appears for the plaintiff, to an "Evening World" reporter to-day said:

"The matter will not be argued in court to-day. I saw Mr. Deane, of the Corporation Counsel's office, this morning, and he said that Mr. Clark had advised Commissioner Andrews of the illegality of his action, and that the contract would be canceled."

"This, of course, means that the action will come to an end outside the courts. The contract calls for large sums of money, and there are many large contractors who are after it."

"Young Silver Dollars" Dance.

"The Young Silver Dollars," a social club composed of young men on the east side, of which fourteen-year-old Anthony Smith, son of Alderman Silver Dollar Smith, is the President, gave its first dance last night in Thalia Hall, Broome street.

All of the children of the neighborhood were present. The hall was garishly decorated with American flags and bunting, and a band of music furnished the music.

The dance was given by Julius Simon, son of William